Dr. Edgar S. Brossard . . . Will receive BYU award for service.

Hinckley, Dr. Brossard to Get Awards

Bryant S. Hinckley, author and life-long church leader, and Dr. Edgar S. Brossard who received the 1958 award from the United States Tariff Commission, will receive distinguished service awards at commencement on June 5.

Hinckley, who has served for 25 years as a member of the MIA General Board, will receive the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and for 18 years as president of Liberty Stake, will receive the Brigham Young University Special Service Award.

Dr. Brossard will receive the American Society Public Service Award. Ernest L. Wilkinson has announced.

Now approaching his 92nd birthday, July 9, Hinckley has performed a life-time service in many church and educational positions. He was graduated in from BYU in 1889 and from Eastman National Business College, Poughkeepsie, N.Y., in 1904. After teaching in Provo, he returned to BYU as an instructor.

He became principal of LDS Business College in 1900, and secretary and manager of Deseret Gymnasium when it opened in 1910. He continued in that position until 1915, when he was called as president of the North-Western States Mission.

He served on the MIA General board 1900 to 1925, became a member of the first High Council of Liberty Stake in 1904, and a member of the stake presidency 1907, and became stake president 1919, serving 18 years. Under sanction of the First Presidency he began the first stake missionary work. Hinckley has been prominent in the Sons of Utah Pioneers, Sons of American Revolution and Descendants of the Mayflower.

In his 89th year he produced two books, "Not By Bread Alone" and "Faith of Our Pioneer Fathers." When he was 91, he published "That Ye Might Have Joy."

Dr. Brossard returned on April 1 as chairman of the U.S. Tariff Commission and has been appointed president of the New England States LDS Mission.

His record shows a career of 42 years of government service, 35 of which were in the Tariff Commission. Earlier he directed the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Dr. Brossard was appointed economist on the Tariff Commission staff Sept. 1, 1923. Pres ident Coolidge appointed him a member of the commission in 1924. Subsequent presidents Hoover, Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower have each reappointed him a member, and Presidents Hoover and Eisenhower appointed him chairman.

He has also served as chairman of the U.S. Tariff Commission and other important committees dealing with inter-American affairs.

His B.S. and honorary LL.D. degrees were gained at Utah State University and his M.S. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Minnesota. He also did graduate work at Cornell University.

Always active in the LDS church, he has been a missionary, high councilman, Sunday School superintendent, bishop and stake president.

A unique program of recognition for individuals of superior academic achievement is scheduled for Tuesday at 4 p.m. in the Multi-purpose area of the Smith Family Living Center.

Invitations have been sent to more than 600 Brigham Young University students who have maintained honor or high honors marks during the past three quarters. This entails having a 3.5 grade point average or above.

Tuesday's program, titled "Salute to Academic Honors" is under the direction of the university committee on scholarships, fellowships and awards. Dean Wesley P. Lloyd is the committee chairman.

Guests attending the affair will enter the Family Living Center by the extreme east door. Upon entering they will receive name cards indicating their academic standing—honor or high honor—and the college in which they are enrolled.

Meet President

The guests will then be introduced individually to President Ernest L. Wilkinson and members of the administrative council. Deans and department heads will also be on hand to greet guests.

During the course of the program the validated students of the class of 1959 will be announced. Also the Efficiency Award for the top male and female graduates will be presented by the Provo Chamber of Commerce.

In addition to the students who will be honored at the event, faculty members who have received special recognition during the year will also be lauded.

Time Given

Music and refreshments will be served as the culminating part of the honors program. Preparation for the affair have been made by the Administrative and members of the special arrangements committee. Guests should arrive not later than 4:15 p.m. The affair will last one hour, officials said.

Leave Time For Church, Family, Says Mrs. Reid

A large portion of a truly successful man's time must be devoted to his family and church as well as his business, one of America's leading business women said Monday.

Rose Marie Reid, head of the world's largest swim suit company and leader in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, made the comment to a student forum audience of the Brigham Young University.

"There is only one success in this world, and that is success in working in this Church and keeping the commandments of God," she told the youthful audience.

Cites Business Need

The greatest need in the business world is for aspiring business executives, she said. Then she pointed to a recent survey which showed that the average business executive spends 67 hours weekly in business work.

Most of these men believe the way to achieve success is only through work, she said. Certainly work is necessary for business success, but a time will come to each person when he must decide if he is working for the Lord or just working, she added.

"So you see," she said, "the way to achieve success is only through work, she said. Certainly work is necessary for business success, but a time will come to each person when he must decide if he is working for the Lord or just working, she added.

She cited Elder George Q. Romney, head of American Motors as exemplary in enhancing business success through spiritual and moral success.

According to Mary Fritzsche, chairman of the program, the AWS is interested in having next year's freshman girls stay at home at the university. She said, "Those who make the girls feel welcome will make them want to stay here."

Each dorm will be organized as a group and will have a social committee which will work together. There will be 40 off-campus groups headed by Spurs, Y Cavers and White Keys.

Evans to Set Assembly Days For Next Year

General scheduling meeting for assemblies and assemblies next year will be held Thursday at 6 p.m. in 130 Smith Building.

According to Doug Evans, vice president of the university, all organizations interested in producing an assembly next year must have a representative in attendance.

Time of assemblies and decisions on who will be producing assemblies, jointly, will be decided at this time. Any organization who want to put on an assembly for the first time should be represented.

Any problems or questions should be brought up at the meeting, according to Evans. New information about scheduling assemblies for the fall year will be introduced and judging sheets will be discussed.

Evans said that there will be no assemblies in the fall semester and that groups that aren't at Thursday's meeting will not be able to give an assembly next year.

Heritage Hall Apartment Holds Dinner-Dance, Gives Awards

Cod are you needing ideas for a party? Here is what Apartment 1811 of Fugal Hall did. They held their own dinner-dance.

The place was the Roof Garden (balcony) of the 1811. Invitations engraved with the 1811 crest were sent to special guests: Harold Turley, Gareth Wootton, Howard Judd, Keith Hubbs, Doug Evans and Bill George.

Guests arrived at 7 p.m. for a mock cocktail party. Drinks were poured from a bottle of gingerale in a bucket of ice.

A full course meal consisting of tomato juice, fresh green salad, ham, potatoes au gratin, candied yams, French cut beans, fruit salad and apple pie.

Entertainment was provided by Sally McComas who did a dance.

Handkerchiefs with the 1811 crest on them in gold were given to the men. The Economic Man of the Year award was given to Kathy Rokes. Billy George was given the Mr. 1811 award.

Howard Judd and Gareth Wootton gave the toast to the girls. Dance music was furnished by Mr. R. C. Victor. The terrace was decorated with lions and serpentine. The terrace afforded an excellent view of the campus and the city.

As the 10:30 song sounded, the girls sang the 1811 Sweetheart song and in return they were serenaded by their dates under the balcony.

Even though Brigham Young University doesn't sponsor a boxing team, Cougar representatives have been making a name for themselves in local AAU and Golden Gloves competition.

For the past few months six BYU slugs have been box ing in tournaments. The best in AAU and Golden Gloves are competing, but the best will still work every day in preparation for the Owen Fite Night to be held Tuesday, May 19.

The half dozen BYU representatives are trained by Stan Chynoweth and Dick Kimber. Kimber is a BYU graduate and was AAU West Coast Champion in 1954.

Jerry Vinsant gained the Eastern AAU light-middleweight title and stayed in the semi-finals of the Golden Gloves tournament in Chicago last month.

Eddie LeBaron is a veteran AAU featherweight and has been an intramural title holder.

Fred Whitenham coppered the AAU Intermountain heavyweight crown this year.

Another boxer fought that sees plenty of action is Niles McFarland, who fought in that division in the service.

Gordy Hansen has also made a name for himself in boxing locally. He is a former intramural champ, and was runner-up in the light-heavyweight division of the Golden Gloves tourna ment.

Bernie Packer has been intramural title holder and won the welterweight Golden Gloves crown.

Do any of these boys have thoughts of turning professional? According to Hansen, they're all going to fight strictly as amateurs, and that's it.

Cougar fast-ball pitcher Jack Cravens has had offers from the Boston Red Sox, the San Francisco Giants, the Pittsburgh Pirates, Detroit Tigers, and the Baltimore Orioles. Jack hasn't decided which offer he'll take and will bargain with the five major league teams in June. Even though this is his last season on the mound for BYU, Jack will finish up graduation work fall quarter.

Though Jack will be leaving athletic competition (he also played basketball) spring quarter, another Cravens will hit the BYU mound next fall—Jack's fall quarter. This will be Jack's younger brother Bill Cravens who was on campus last quarter. Bill is an outstanding track-and-field high school circles in San Diego and is also a top track performer, especially in the 440.

The younger Cravens still is being sought after by a number of colleges and has made no final decision yet. He is a prominent official at the University of Arizona that he would look over their campus before making a decision.

But Jack said he talked to Bill last week on the phone and that Bill is just about set on coming here next fall.

Cougars Face Threat To Skyline Track Reign

Brigham Young University's thundershads defeated New Mexico in the first race at the first of the season on their annual spring track by a slim margin of 67-64.

However, bench side spectators aren't too sure that the Cats will be able to withstand the Lobos challenge to the Skyline domination in the upcoming Skyline meet in Salt Lake City this Friday evening.

NATO stands watch

NATO stands watch. NATO—North Atlantic Treaty Organization. And the members are the United States, Canada, Denmark, France, Germany, United Kingdom, Iceland, Italy, Luxembourg, Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Greece, Turkey, NATO—a strong military force against the Soviet Union.

Makes no mistake! The Soviets respect NATO. Since NATO began, ten years ago, not one country in the Atlantic area has fallen under Soviet rule.
